Dear Frank:

I was interested in your letter to the Vice President but I am not sure whether your suggestion does not involve a somewhat difficult mixing of drinks which might result in a scouring boat. However, it is worth a thought and it is always good to hear from you.

Faithfully yours,

Allen W. Dulles

The Honorable Richard M. Nixon
Vice President of the United States
Washington, D. C.

Dear Dick:

I was delighted to read that you are going to the Soviet Union in July. This visit cannot help but be of substantial value. Let me also, however, suggest that you consider an informal visit to Belgrade on your return from Moscow. It seems to me very important that at the time of the first top-level visit to the Soviet Union, a similar visit be made to Yugoslavia in order to minimize apprehensions, irrational but still important, that our interest in Yugoslavia will be lessened as a result of the Soviet visit. The Yugoslavs will be watching this visit very closely and I can't help but feel your visit to Belgrade would help strengthen their determination to continue to resist Soviet pressures. I think it would also be an important indication to the people of the Eastern European satellites that we are not preparing a deal which would abandon them permanently to the Soviets. Further, I think it would be most useful for Tito to have, directly from you, a frank statement of United States interests in Yugoslavia. I think this is important on two scores. First, so that Tito will not over-estimate his own significance in the world scene and on the other hand, so that he will be fully convinced of our resolve not to make damaging compromises with Moscow, even under the threats of missile warfare.

Sincerely,

Franklin A. Lindsay
